Greencore Kiveton Enters Partnership with Local Junior Football Club

Local food manufacturer Greencore, based in Kiveton, is delighted to announce its partnership with Aston Swallownest Junior Football Club for the next two seasons (2021/22 - 2022/23).

Commenting on the sponsorship, Darren Haywood General Manager at Greencore Kiveton says: "We are absolutely delighted to be sponsoring Aston Swallownest JFC. As a large local employer several of our colleagues will have had an affiliation with the club, and we are proud to enter this partnership for the next two years."

Commenting on this news, Phil Sanders, Chairman of Aston Swallownest JFC says: "We are excited to build our partnership with Greencore over the next two years supporting our teams, the local communities and our chosen charity of Harrison Kicks Leukaemia & the Sheffield Children's Hospital. We look forward to the next two years building our partnership."

The Greencore manufacturing site in Kiveton was originally founded by ET Sutherland and has previously produced canned goods, potted spreads and ready meals.

Today, the Greencore site is a leading manufacturer of quiche and chilled soup for many of the major supermarkets in the UK with exciting plans for the future. The site employs more than 640 people and is currently on the lookout for 30 new colleagues to join the team.

Anyone interested in joining the company can visit www.greencore.com/careers or email zoe.arstall@greencore.com.
